FISHERMAN HARA DROWNS AT KALIHI

Hara, a Japanese fisherman of this city, lost his life by falling overboard from his sampan off Kalihi yesterday morning. The deceased was one of the crew of a big sampan carrying five men. The craft was sailing off Kalihi harbor when the boom suddenly swung over in the variable breeze. It struck Hara and knocked him overboard. This was at about 3 o'clock in the morning and it was too dark for his comrades to see him in the water. They threw out oars and other wooden implements and went about as soon as possible, but nothing could be seen of him. Other sampans were called and the boats cruised about the place during the better part of the day, but the body was not recovered. Last night the sampan returned and the dead man's comrades made a report of the affair to the police.

WATERFRONT NOTES

LUMBER BOAT IN.

The barkentine Mary Winkelman, Captain Jacobson, arrived this morning from Eureka, with 530,000 feet of lumber for Allen & Robinson. She made the trip in 15 days to Diamond Head, which is good considering that she had only summer breezes on the way down, and is laden as deeply as the law allows.

The Winkelman is one of the old timers, and has quite a history stretched behind her. She can still go some, though, and looked unusually neat for a craft just in off a voyage, as she tied up at the docks this morning.

THE W. G. HALL came in this morning from Kaula, with 6000 bags of sugar and 10 passengers on deck. She goes out this evening with the Secretary's party for Kaula, as soon as the speaking at Ala Park is over.

THE MOKOLU, which is now out of commission, is to be fitted up with a gasoline engine and put into commission by Captain Miller, to compete with the J. A. Cummins.

THE MEN rescued by the Benjamin Constant from Wake Island were, as supposed by a great many men on the waterfront, the crew of a Japanese trading vessel.

THE A. H. S. S. Alaskan sails tomorrow for Kahului, to load sugar. She will then go direct to San Francisco, thence to the Sound, and back to this port.

THE KE AU HOU is today loading rice at Anahola. Yesterday, she had already taken on rice at Kapaa, and also had 2400 bags of sugar in her hold.

THE WATERFRONT police are today looking for the "pirates of the Lady," who escaped this morning from the guard house at Fort Shafter.

THE W. G. HALL makes a special trip to Kaula today, and the Kinau will make a special return trip, carrying the Garfield party.

THE KINAU sailed yesterday afternoon for Kaula.
